Department Denies Missing In Germany

Following the publication of an unfounded rumour to the effect that some 1,500 Canadian soldiers, previously reported "missing and presumed dead," were living in Germany since the signing of the Armistice last November, the department of Militia and Defence has been deluged with letters from the next-of-kin of men falling in this category.

The publication of the rumor has had distressing results, a statement from the department says, "in that relatives of soldiers reported

'missing and presumed dead' have had hopes revived only to again be shattered. The Militia department characterizes the story as a 'hoax' and is taking steps to discover its origin."

Seed Control Act Strictly Enforced

Canadian farmers and gardeners are protected from the evils of planting inferior seed of many kinds of crops imported from other countries by the Seed Control Council that came into effect in the autumn. The importation is prohibited of unfit seed of clovers, grasses, vetches, rape, other forage plants, field grain and garden vegetables in the form of seed or seedlings.

In pursuit of the Seed Control Act of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, and obtainable from the Public Branch, unfit seed is described as seed which does not comply with the Seed Control Act requirements respecting the same of seed in Canada, or if it has been refused admission by any other country on account of low quality.

The regulations will be carried out through the Customs' officials, who are required to take and forward to the Dominion Seed Laboratory for examination samples of seed of the classes named entered for consumption in Canada. Seed that had arrived in Canada and found to be unfit will be returned under Customs inspection. The person found failing to comply with these regulations is $400 for the first offence and not exceeding $1,000 for the second and each subsequent offence.

Conserve By-Products Now.

Bees, like people are gradually being introduced into Canada in place of bee-hive ovens, which were valuable by-products such as gas, tar and ammonia, according to a recent report of the Conservation Committee.

War Saving Plan a Long Felt Need

It had long been felt that there was great need in Canada for such a movement as that represented by the National War Saving campaign. Large as was the number of subscribers to the second Victory Loan, it averaged but one for every seven of the population. This leaves quite a field

Model 90 Touring, $1,160; Model 85-Touring, $1,060; Model 85-A Touring, $1,075; Model 84, $1,045.

Overland cars always have been designed and built to meet the taste and needs of substantial people.

The good things owners say cause the steadily increasing demand for Model 90 cars. There probably will not be enough to meet the demand of this season.

for the War Saving plan. In the United States one in five subscribed to the Fourth Victory Loan and yet the War Saving campaign is being pushed most energetically in that country. Through the War Saving plan the person of small means has a chance compound half-yearly is paid. Even as was never offered before to invest in a Canadian Government security, the person who pays $4 for a War Saving Stamp buys a government security on which 4 1/2 per cent.

the person having only 25 cents can, through buying a Thrift Stamp, take the first step towards getting one of these small government securities, in the form of a War Saving Stamp.

Restoring Peace to the World

The eyes of the world are focused on Paris where the setting of statesmen of the civilized nations are deliberating in the Peace Conference. Their coming is to reach solutions of the many great problems confronting mankind, solutions which must be found if lasting peace is to be attained and the freedom and independence of all nationalities safeguarded. The British Empire and Canada as a nation within the Empire, is represented in the Peace Conference and with the deliberations of the British capital, it is to be hoped, our interests will be well cared for. The question to which the attention of the people of Western Canada may, however, be directed is what part, if any, they are yet called upon to play in making the world safe for democracy.

The general tenor of all reports from Paris is to the effect that the most difficult of all problems confronting the Allies is not how to deal with the problems of the past but with those of the future. It has taken a full year, now, to have to adjust in a practicable and satisfactory manner the opposing interests and claims of the Allies, difficult as these may be. The international problem—indeed gives rise to keen anxiety in all countries is how to bring about a durable peace unless this means of stamping the tide of anarchy he is nigh.

Western Canada performed miracles in food production during the war, and it would seem that our duty in the present crisis lies in the same direction. Whether a guaranteed price is to be paid for all surplus food established or not, and even though prices drop to very low figures, all authorities agree that food prices will range between 25 and 50 per cent of pre-war figures, and that there will be a market for all the foodstuffs. Western Canada can produce. While profits are to be expected the next two or three years, there should remain a substantial margin of profit to the food producer.

No one understands that the farmer's honest desire to sell his surplus at a profit and have no class in Canada which has been more quick to respond to all the calls of duty and patriotism than the men on the land. The object of this article is not to threaten the farmer with what he ought to do, but merely to draw attention to the world situation as it exists, and as far as possible to lead the people of Western Canada in the establishment of order and good government throughout the world. People who are hungry and starving, and suffering all the distress which lack of food means, cannot be restored with our help. Lack of food to sustain life encourages lawlessness and all the Bolshevik tendencies latent in man.

In his message to Congress urging the appropriation of $100 million for food relief in Europe, President Wilson said:

"Food relief is now the key to the whole European situation and to the solution of Bolshevikism. Bolshevism is rapidly advancing westward, and stopped by force, but can be stopped by food, and all the leaders with whom I am in conference agree that concerted action in this matter is of the greatest importance."

Said Mr. Dow, president of the Farmers' Union of Alberta:

"The time has come when we must do something to assist in this great task." Apparently they can do much, if President Wilson and the Allied Leaders now in conference in Paris, take the lead in the world's affairs.

They have come to the conclusion that just as the provision of an adequate supply of food was a pressing essential to winning the war, so is food again to become the leading factor in the reconstruction and re-establishment of order and good government throughout the world. People who are hungry and starving, and suffering all the distress which lack of food means, cannot be restored with our help. Lack of food to sustain life encourages lawlessness and all the Bolshevik tendencies latent in man.

This existing situation seems to point to the conclusion that, just as in the First World War, so materially to win the war for freedom and civilization, so can we now be an important factor in bringing about order and stable conditions throughout the world. And the re-establishment of such conditions will be welcomed by everyone will admit, necessary to the prosperity of all nations and all people and the resumption of peaceful trade throughout the world.

Vonda Enjoying Boom

Regina, Sask.—Bids fair to double its size in 1919, such are the prospects for Vonda, a small town recently recommended. Among the projects proposed is a power plant, which will mean electric light on Vonda streets and stores and homes. A number of 24-room houses have been built around the hotel which has been overhauled and refurbished. Among the buildings now under construction are a large frame garage, a sales barn and blacksmith shop, the power plant and a number of new residences.

Short Courses in Practical Farming

The department of agriculture of Alberta is again putting on short courses at the three provincial agricultural schools at Vernon, Okotoks and Claresholm.

The short courses will give the usual attention to live stock, soil cultivation and seed selection, but farm mechanics and tractors will take a prominent place in the regular list.

There will also be lectures in domestic science and home nursing for women.

Farmers Apply For Seed Grain

Revenue Office is Engaged in Receiving Applications for Seed Grain

Coming Soon

Ottawa.—That the advances of seed grain, fodder and relief, made by the federal government to certain western areas during the season of 1917-18 were not anticipated by the government in the sum of one of a total of approximately $9,500,000 advanced, the department of interior has already collected in the neighborhood of 75 per cent. The justification of this advance, however, can probably be best measured from the fact that the crop grown from the seed advance is estimated at about 75,000 bushels of wheat, 210,000 bushels of oats, 100,000 bushels of barley and 100,000 bushels at a time when the silled need for food was greatest. The benefit derived from the advance is not to be estimated from the immediate returns from the seed advance, however. As a result of the assistance many settlers who would otherwise have been compelled to give up were and have since been enabled to continue in crop a very large area, with the result that their efforts contributed heavily toward Canada's cereal export during the succeeding year.

Now the new seed grain office of the department of interior is engaged in receiving and recording applications for seed grain for the coming season, from the holders of unpatented Dominion land under the new system. The seed grain will affect for this year's advances, in an endeavor to effect a saving in distribution and collection expenses it was decided at a conference held at the instance of Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of interior, that the system providing for representations and in co-operation with the Canadian Bankers' association, that the federal government would guarantee to the bank the payment of the advances made to holders of unpatented Dominion land.

The system in operation is that the settlers make application to the secretary-treasurer of the ministry in writing. He then forwards the details to unpatented, to the provincial officer of the department of agriculture in his district. The application is verified, but the secretary-treasurer makes a general representation to the chief inspector of Dominion land agencies at Winnipeg, who, if he approves, forwards the names and addresses with which the land company or companies with which the land takes the usual note made by them on advances of this nature. The settler is then in a position to purchase the seed from whosoever he knows has the right claim for his land and local conditions, there is no guarantee for seed available locally the department of agriculture is arranging for shipments to be sold to the farmers at cost.

The interest on these advances is 7 per cent. The government guarantees the bank for the amount of the principal and 5 per cent interest only. The bank undertakes the collection and receives the sum due on hand about January 1st, 1918, 47,607,400 bushels in 1917, 18.

All the necessary recording, registration, and keeping of records in connection with these advances has been done at Ottawa in the revenue seed grain office which is under the jurisdiction of the controller of revenue or of the minister of the interior, Gen. D. Pope.

It will be recalled that under the conditions existing after the crop failure of 1914, it was necessary for the Dominion government to come to the aid of the settlers in the grain fields and relief, not only making the advances to the settlers on unpatented land, but also a grant of patented land. Contracts were made with the Saskatchewan and Alberta governments by which the Dominion government was permitted to take security on the land, which security took priority over first mortgages, etc., and the value of the land was now, it is stated, being worked out satisfactorily.

Arrangements have also been perfected with the soldiers' settling authorities in connection with the advances of these years whereby returned soldiers can take advantage of these advances guaranteed by the government.

Building in West A Patriotic Duty

Structures are Required in Many Centres and the Work is Needed

Now that the war is over, our thoughts turn to reconstruction and the vital question is "What to do with and for the returned soldier, to get him settled back into his place where he will not only be useful, but also a good citizen?"

Thinking minds seem convinced that there need be little confusion during the transition period, provided work can be found for the returned men. This is the only way to insure high pay for an indefinite time, and that European competition, formerly so keenly felt in our markets, is not going to be so severe as to force us to compete with them. Work has been advanced abroad, with no immediate prospect of their return to the war basis."

Frank V. Vandeleur, president of the National City Bank of New York, in an address delivered at that city recently, declared that it is possible to transfer 15,000,000 men now engaged in war to work for economic gain without greatly disturbing conditions.

"I would not argue that we can make this transition without any job," he said, "but I believe that the demand for labor is so great that it is possible to make the transition without difficulty."

"We may make a cushion of public work. That is possible. But there are really tremendous orders that may now be executable, and, on the whole, I would not be surprised to find that we shall see no surplus of labor, providing labor and the employer can work to the best of his ability in this readjustment."

John N. Willys, president of Wibbly Company, says:

Final Estimates Of the 1918 Crops

Total Yields Lower Than in Previous Year

Final estimates of the yield of crops in Canada for the season of 1918, compared with 1917, have just been issued by the department of agriculture. With the exception of last year, the total yields of all the grain crops were lower than in the previous year, but they are not so low as might have been expected in view of the severe weather conditions experienced in the three Prairie Provinces. 146,100 bushels of wheat were harvested, as compared with 219,953,000 bushels in 1917. The total yield of barley was 222,049,500 bushels of the former and 577,600 bushels of the latter having been harvested as compared with 254,877,000 and 4,538,000 bushels respectively in 1917. Barley is still on hand about January 1st, 1918, 40,430,100 bushels in 1917, 18.

Interest on these advances is 7 per cent. The government guarantees the bank for the amount of the principal and 5 per cent interest only. The bank undertakes the collection and receives the sum due on hand about January 1st, 1918, 47,607,400 bushels in 1917, 18.

Recall Sale—Pack in B. C.

The salmon pack of British Columbia last year was the largest in the history of the industry in the province, according to a statement just issued by the B.C. Packers' Association.

There were no fewer than 1,616,157 cases, as compared with 1,557,485 cases in 1917, the previous largest pack. The greater part was shipped to Europe.

Folly for Builders to Hold for Lower Prices

Duty of Business to Go Abroad Say Big Men of United States

A tendency on the part of business men to hold back new enterprises in expectation of lower commodity prices and wages is a mistake, in the opinion of Joseph Glidden, vice-president of the head of the Central Trust company of Illinois.

"I have no sympathy for the man who is sitting back awa'ing lower prices," said Mr. Glidden. "The people who are engaged in a new decline in prices aren't going to get it; they are going to get left. In other words, I don't believe we are going to see any immediate and drastic decline in commodity prices. There is a world-wide demand for materials, and production costs are going to continue abnormally high."

"We have had perhaps a certain amount of inflation. To the extent that rates have risen are due to the war, however, we can expect no immediate decline. The process of deflation will be gradual."

"If we were all to hold back awaiting lower prices, we should produce conditions in which there would be no room to go ahead and seize the opportunities now awaiting. If a manufacturer were to defer his plans in the hope of getting a lower construction cost at some indefinite time in the future, he probably would lose more profit on goods which he might have been producing and selling in the meantime than he would ever have on a construction cost at the present time."

Frank W. Thomas, of A. O. Stoughton & Co., said recently:

"In considering the outlook for construction, it is most bear in mind that wages are going to remain high for an indefinite time, and that European competition, formerly so keenly felt in our markets, is not going to be so severe as to force us to compete with them. Work has been advanced abroad, with no immediate prospect of their return to the war basis."

Frank V. Vandeleur, president of the National City Bank of New York, in an address delivered at that city recently, declared that it is possible to transfer 15,000,000 men now engaged in war to work for economic gain without greatly disturbing conditions.

Women in All Parts of Canada

TELL OF THE HEALTH DODDS' KIDNEY PILLS BRING

They Made a New Woman of Victoria Mortimer, Who Was a Victim of Kidney Disease, Sackville, N.B.

Clemson, Sackville, February 10, (Special).—"Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a wonderful change in my life," wrote Mrs. John Mortimer, of this place. "They are wonderful for all parts of Canada who have suffered, and who have found relief and cure. Dodd's Kidney Pills have helped me to live a normal life again. I feel it is my duty to let you know what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me. I had a pain in my back, and I could not get out of bed without help. I had a pain in my back, and I could get no relief. I was advised to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. The day I received them I took three before going to bed, and I fell a lot better next morning."

"I took them according to directions, and in one week I was able to get out of bed without help. If I overwork and strain myself, I have a pain in my back, and I feel better in a few hours. I have recommended them to my friends, and they also have been helped."

If you haven't used Dodd's Kidney Pills ask your neighbors about them.

The service was good, and the price reasonable.
